RSAC SCOTTISH RALLY 2004

'TRACKROD TOUR OF SCOTLAND'

Thirty-eight Trackrod members, friends and associates made the trip north for this years RSAC Scottish rally, the third round of the 2004 British Rally Championship.

Numbers going north from club seem to be on the increase and with a full programme this year either running or assisting on no less than 4 stages we were in for a busy time.

For those who arrived in time the first stage was Thursday's media stage in the forest of Ae. This was a short untimed stage with approx 10 cars participating to enable the nations media and various competition winners to get closer and involved in the action.

Friday was set up day for SS7 Craignell the stage which I had volunteered us for. The stage was a mere 16 mile spectator stage run through Clatteringshaws forest to the north west of rally headquarters in Dumfries. After a 30 minute scenic drive to the forest we split into teams to set up the stage, spectator areas and car parks. Having completed this, it was back to the campsite via various bits of sightseeing for a bite to eat then off to the next stage. SS2 Heathall was a 0.7mile purpose built super special complete with quarry area and water splash and was the main spectator area and our sector to marshal.

The stage only just passed without incident as one of the heaviest vehicles on the event tried it's best to roll, a small matter of 1.75 tons of army landrover!!!

After the stage had finished it was back to the campsite for a can or four of something cold to wash away the dust.

Saturday and back to a sunny and midge free Clatteringshaws forest. The stage ran without any major problems with only two cars going off in stage. After cleaning up it was back to the campsite and a pleasant evening with the usual BBQ and drinks.

After a leisurely start on Sunday morning, it was back to Heathall for the National competitors run through the spectator special. We had the same quarry section to marshal and again the stage passed without incident.

I would personally like to thank everyone who made the trip north on our little tour of Scotland. Especially Caroline and Edith for sorting the BBQ on Saturday night.

An enjoyable time was had by all with leisurely starts and finish times (none of this 5.30 in the morning lark!!).

I hope we will be asked back again next year and if anyone would like to join our growing band please let me know as accommodation is getting harder to find.

Thanks again to everyone.

British Historic Rally Championship Rounds Three and Four

Round 3 of the Championship took us to Epynt for the International Welsh Rally. This was my first visit to the Ranges so didn't really know what to expect but was looking forward to it especially as Dave said he liked tarmac.

The format was a recce on Friday afternoon, scrutineering Saturday morning with the rally starting in the afternoon and continuing on Sunday. The recce was done on a convoy basis but 6 of us still managed to lose the route, not a good start.

Didn't have to get up too early on Saturday so a few beers with some of the other crews from our Class were in order then back to the B & B. No problems with scrutineering so off to the start in Brecon. Only 4 stages in the afternoon but at 15 miles each 60 Stage miles before tea!

No problems on the first 3 other than a quick spin out of a chicane put us in 1st in class. Unfortunately Graham Whitaker had already retired on stage 1 as a result of a mysterious electrical problem.

On stage 4 as a result of a hard landing the distributor plug came loose and we coasted to a halt. Fortunately Dave quickly spotted the problem and we were soon on our way.

This dropped us to 2nd in class by 45 seconds at the end of the first day.

The second day amounted to another 60 stage miles in 4 legs of 3 with service in between each leg.

By the end of the second leg we had reduced the difference to 5 seconds. We went into the last leg back in the lead.

Halfway through the last 10 mile stage a voice in my ear said the clutch had totally gone. We got through the stage but didn't know how much time we had lost. We then had the thought of driving back through Brecon on a Bank Holiday Sunday with no clutch. We managed this ok and arrived at the Final Control still not knowing where we had finished. When we finally got some results we were delighted to find we had managed to hang on to our lead, but only by 6 seconds after 120 stage miles and 2 hours of rallying.

The other Trackrod crew of Robin Shuttleworth and Mark Midgley had retired earlier in the day. How can I describe Epynt? Well it is like 15 miles of Harewood with bumps and crests and absolutely fabulous, even better to come way with our First class win and seventh overall as well. This put us 1st in class in the Championship and 7th overall.

The next round, the Mutiny, took us back to Wales and to the same area. What was a link section on the Welsh was a stage on Mutiny and vice versa.

The rally was based at the Builth Wells showground with everything but the finish being there. All the usual crews were there for 8 stages including Halfway, Crychan Cefn and Tywi.

Before 1st service there were 5 stages totalling 33 miles plus 50 road miles and with no management vehicles allowed, a few crews were concerned about having enough fuel. The first 4 stages went well, but running wide on to some logs on stage 5 lost us some time, but back at service we found we had been fastest in class on every stage and lead the class by 40 seconds and were 10th overall.

Stage 6, Tywi, was the largest at 14 miles and the roughest. We managed to pick up a puncture. Fortunately with only a mile to go, so we carried on. At the end we joined 2 others changing punctures. We won the pit stop race last to stop and first to leave.

Stages 7 and 8 were a lot smoother, but how do we pronounce Fwng!

Final results confirmed we had extended our lead to 55 seconds and had finished 9th overall. Mark and Robin finished 5th in class and 18th overall.

This result moved us up to 4th overall in the championship.

Next round, back in Wales again for the Mid Wales stages based in Newtown.
